URBAN CHALLENGE PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The Urban Challenge Program is an urban, service-learning, immersion experience rooted in the Catholic faith tradition. Offering a point of access to the lives and stories of the people of Camden, NJ, and its surrounding communities, the Urban Challenge Program is a unique educational and retreat opportunity that serves mainly suburban high school and college-aged students.

The Urban Challenge Program is comprised of three fundamental components: faith, service, and community. By emphasizing these components, we hope participants will take action on behalf of the poor and vulnerable, long after participants have left the Romero Center.

Faith within the Urban Challenge Program is manifested through prayer, reflection, Catholic Social Teaching principles, and an opportunity to celebrate Mass with the community of St. Joseph Pro Cathedral. Faith allows participants a means to focus on their service and activities and sets a meaningful backdrop for their experience in Camden. Participants will engage in reflections related to themes of Catholic Social Teaching, as well as, participate in simulations focused on social inequality. Participants are called to awaken to the intersection of their lives with the lives of those in need and Christ's call to respond to the needs of others.

Service is arranged each day to provide participants an opportunity to encounter others and to discover/rediscover their own gifts and talents. Service is presented as either a ministry of labor (sorting food, landscaping, preparing/serving food) or a ministry of presence (sharing stories with the very young and very old, playing games at a community center). Both types of service aim to expose participants to the benefits and challenges of urban communities and the various issues confronting the least of these living within those communities.

Community at the Romero Center is an extension of the idea that we are all part of one human family and we belong together. During the Urban Challenge, community will be emphasized through community meals, activities, reflections, and shared spaces (community rooms, kitchen and dining areas). Participants will be encouraged to support the Romero Center community by listening respectfully as others reflect, being present to those gathered, being discreet with cell phone use, and respecting other participants' need for rest and space.

Urban Challenge Program participants and group leaders are expected to fully participate in all programming. There may be times when participants will feel uncomfortable or unsure of themselves. We recognize that everyone has his/her own story and is at a different place on the journey. We believe that through challenging ourselves to live outside our comfort zones, we open up to deepening our relationships with God, each other, and ourselves. The Urban Challenge Program is available in overnight, weekend, and week-long formats. Please note that there may be multiple groups at the Romero Center at the same time. While groups will not be sleeping in the same rooms, they will likely be together for meals, large group reflections, and for evening educational activities.

What are the accommodations at the Romero Center?

Our accommodations at the Romero Center are comfortable but simple. Participants will sleep in same-gender rooms of two, three, or four. There are separate communal bathrooms for males and females. We have large community rooms for reflections and activities, two kitchens, and two dining rooms.

What does a typical Urban Challenge retreat day look like?

The day typically begins at 8:30 am when all participants gather for a morning check-in. From there, participants leave for their work sites at 8:45 and serve until 3:00. Participants are welcome to rest until dinner. After dinner, participants will be engaged in a full evening of activity for learning and building community. We end the evening with reflection and prayer. We encourage participants to get as much rest as possible as we maintain a very ambitious schedule!

What kind of work will I be doing at the service sites?

We partner with a variety of social service organizations throughout Camden, Pennsauken, and Philadelphia. The work sites may include: adult day care, nursing homes, residential care facilities, homeless shelters, soup kitchens and food banks, housing rehabilitation, and other social service agencies in the area. Some sites require more physical labor than others. More often than not, participants will be asked to be a ministry of presence for those they are serving.

How safe will I be while in Camden?

The safety of our visitors is a priority. We are located on a parish campus with much activity. Our building is equipped with an alarm system and secure locks on both our doors and gate. Students are always accompanied by an adult. We work with social service sites in both Camden and Philadelphia with whom we have long-standing relationships. Our staff is here throughout the day and well into the evening; adult chaperones stay with the students overnight. If you have specific concerns about safety, please feel free to contact us so that we can address your concerns directly.

I am not Catholic. Will I be welcome to participate in the programs that the Romero Center has to offer?

Absolutely. Our retreats are rooted in the Gospel and the teachings of the Roman Catholic Church, but we welcome people of all faiths and spiritual traditions, as well as those who are struggling with or discerning their spiritual journey. We strive to provide a hospitable atmosphere to all those who come to Romero Center Ministries, and we promise to walk with you, no matter where you are on your journey of faith.

We require a non-refundable deposit of 20% of your total fee within ten business days of scheduling in order to confirm your reservation.

Please take your commitment to your Urban Challenge reservation very seriously. Please do not reserve spots for the Urban Challenge Program that you are not entirely certain you will fill. We turn many students away because of capacity limitations; please keep others in mind when scheduling your group.

Romero Center Ministries’ major source of funding is the Urban Challenge Program, which does not fully cover the cost associated with running the program. We rely on your reservation when budgeting funding for the upcoming fiscal year. Unfulfilled reservations are a significant hardship for the Center.

Thank you for your intentionality in scheduling.

*While you are welcome to bring more chaperones of either gender, we must have the minimum required number of chaperone of each gender in order to accommodate your group. We are not able to make exceptions to this policy. Thank you for collaborating with us to ensure the safety and quality of the students’ experience.

Chaperones must be at least 21 years old. Chaperones must remain for the entire program. Chaperones are responsible for ensuring that participants are well-behaved and actively engaged in their Urban Challenge Experience. Chaperones are responsible for addressing all discipline and medical issues. All groups are responsible for ensuring their chaperones have completed a criminal history background check -- the results must satisfy the Diocese of Camden Policy Regarding Criminal History Background Checks for Employees and Volunteers who have Contact with Children or Young People. For more information on these policies, please see the Diocese of Camden’s Chaperone Policy, sections V and VI. See the Diocese of Camden’s Standards for Protection webpage for additional information.

URBAN CHALLENGE CODE OF CONDUCT

The following list is intended to be representative, though by no means comprehensive, of rules and guidelines created to ensure the integrity of the Romero Center Ministries programs and the experience of the participants. Any infraction of these rules may result in immediate termination of participation in the activities of the program and expulsion from the Center.

- Be open and immerse yourself in this experience.
- Listen reverently and respectfully to others, including: fellow Urban Challenge participants, chaperones, Romero Center Ministries staff, guest presenters, all guests and staff members at worksites, and anyone else who you might encounter during your Urban Challenge experience.
- Get plenty of rest.
- Pitch in with chores around the Center (e.g. kitchen clean-up, keeping the Center neat).
- Do not flush anything other than bodily waste and toilet paper down the toilet.
- Do not eat or drink anywhere other than the specified dining area on the first floor.
- Report any damage to a Romero Center Ministries staff member immediately.
- Do not have your cell phone on the first floor of the Romero Center or with you at the work site.
- Do not roughhouse, throw balls or other objects inside, or do anything else that could damage the building, furniture, equipment, or other contents or which could cause injury to yourself or others. Participants will be billed for all damages that occur during their stay.
- Do not open the front door to strangers.
- Do not open the windows on the first floor.
- Do not smoke, consume alcohol, or use illegal drugs.
- Do not go into anyone else's dorm room without permission.
- Do not touch anyone else's belongings.
